

Voca - ImpactX

An app designed to help people who stutter lead better, more fluent lives
Category: Health and Wellness

The Problem

Did you know that 1% of all adults and 5% of all kids suffer from stuttering. As a fellow stutterer, a common way people try to mitigate stuttering is through the use of avoidance behaviors. These comprise of swapping difficult to say words for simpler but similar in meaning words.

People stutter on some words more than other due to underlying psychological patterns.
